[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO JAN. 23.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Garfield, Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, remarked that the revenues and the expenditures might be almost said to be the whole scope of the government of modern nations. In looking over the statistics of England he had discovered the curious fact that whenever England had a war the expenditures immediately and naturally leaped up enormously to a higher level and when the war ended the expenditures graded down rapidly, and at last struck a level below which they did not go. That level was always a good deal higher than the level from which the country had started when the war began. Referring to the length of time it took after a war for a nation to get down as far as it would go in the reduction of expenditures, he said it appeared to be a law in the United States that it was about equal to double the length of time the war lasted. He calculated that the United States would reach its lowest peace level in 1876, when he thought the ordinary expenditures of the Government would be about $125,000,000, and the interest on the public debt $95,000,000. He had divided the expenditures into three great heads and found the proportions of this amount referrable to the late war, exclusive of interest on the public debt, 69½ per cent., the present army and navy establishment 14 per cent., and all the other departments of the Government, 25½ per cent. The same heads in the expenditures of the English government, were 39½, 33 and 28½ per cent. Coming down to the bill itself, he said it appropriated $2,336,000 less than the like bill last year, and $3,000,000 less than asked for in the estimate.

Beck remarked that he served on the Appropriation Committee two years, and that it was the most stringent committee he ever knew. It had to come back with the deficiency bill, and he predicted that the present committee would have to do as after the Presidential election.

Wood said he thought Garfield should have given a portion of his time to the study of the lamentable and extraordinary facts stated in the civil service report, that the cost of collecting the revenue amounted to one-fourth of the revenue, and that he should propose some means by which Congress should curtail these enormous expenditures.

Hale declared that the cost of collection was not more than five or six per cent. of the aggregate revenue, and he explained that what the civil service commissioners meant to convey in the remark quoted was not that one fourth of the revenue was stolen, but that owing to the system one-fourth of what ought to be received by the Government was lost, and it was owing to the spoils system handed down from Democratic days.

After some further discussion the general debate closed, and the Clerk proceeded to read the bill by clauses. After progressing through thirteen of the fifty-six pages composing the bill, the committee rose and the House soon after adjourned.

Pomeroy, from the Committee on Public Lands, reported a bill setting apart certain public lands near the headwaters of the Yellowstone river as a public park.

The bill for the relief of the Chicago sufferers came up.

Chandler proposed an amendment extending the provisions of the bill to certain towns in Michigan. This threatening to give rise to a debate, Morton called for the regular order, the amnesty bill, and addressed the Senate upon it. He declared himself opposed to universal amnesty, and characterized the arguments in favor of it as based upon sickly sentimentality and spurious generosity. He thought there was a good deal of misapprehension throughout the country in regard to the disabilities now resting upon those engaged in the rebellion. Perhaps it was not generally known that Jefferson Davis and all his followers had as much right to vote as any man who served in the Union army. He reviewed the history of the Fourteenth Amendment, and argued that the proposition in it authorizing Congress to remove disabilities by a two-thirds vote was not designed to authorize the removal of disabilities from classes, but only from individuals. He was willing to vote for the bill, but he would never vote for it with the exceptions stricken out. He would not consent to the disabilities imposed by this amendment upon Southern leaders, because to do so would be to acknowledge that the rebellion was not wrong, and that the leaders of the rebellion have the same right as loyal men to hold highest offices of the Government.

The disability proposed by that amendment upon the Southern leaders was the last remaining legal mark of disapprobation of the rebellion, and he would never consent to its removal; because to do so would be to acknowledge that the rebellion was not wrong, that it was merely a difference of opinion, and that the leaders of the rebellion have the same right as loyal men to hold the highest offices of the Government. The question of amnesty had generally been argued heretofore on the grounds of expediency and expedience, but he wished to consider upon a higher plan. He thought there was a great principle involved—a principle of consistency of duty to the Government, and especially a principle of the greatest importance to posterity. He did not believe the argument that amnesty would conciliate the people of the South.

Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—It was stated in a Cabinet meeting to-day that dispatches from Gen. Emory represent everything quiet at New Orleans.

The Committee appointed at the request of the Postmaster General, Creswell, to investigate the charges against him of fraud and making mail contracts, have summoned witnesses and will commence their examination on Thursday.

The President sent a message to the Senate withdrawing the nomination of Willard Warner as Collector of Customs at Mobile.

Under the Apportionment Bill reported to the Senate to-day, 157,109 is fixed as the number of inhabitants necessary for a member in the House, which gives 222 members of the House, and by fractions 17, and Delaware, Nevada, Nebraska and Oregon 4, making a total of 243 Representatives. The States which obtained each one Representative by fractions are Tennessee, Maine, Maryland, Ohio, New York, North Carolina, Minnesota, West Virginia, Virginia, New Jersey, Wisconsin, Missouri, Indiana, Louisiana, Iowa, California and Georgia. Under this bill, California has four Representatives, and Oregon one, and Nevada one, each.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Spain and the Slave Trade.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—A deputation from the Anti Slave Trade Society waited on Earl Granville and made representations in regard to Spain's non-performance of the treaty for the suppression of the slave trade. Lord Granville, in reply, said there was no doubt that Spain infringed on the treaty, but the matter was too delicate for the interference of England at the present time. Spain has a new insurrection, on her hands. The British Minister at Madrid was doing his utmost to secure the observance of all treaty obligations. His Lordship, in conclusion, said he would consult with his colleagues before taking steps or pronouncing opinions as to the conduct of Spain.

English News.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—The election excitement in Kerry runs dangerously high. It is reported that the Fenians are organizing mobs to support Blennerhassett, the home rule candidate, and that the priests are threatened with violence. Bright has written a letter to O'Donohue denouncing home rule.

Advices from the Cape of Good Hope represent that rich discoveries continue to be made in the diamond fields. Among others, two diamonds have been found weighing 1,000 carats each.

French Affairs.

PARIS, Jan. 23.—It is reported that during the crisis, caused by Thiers' proposed withdrawal, agents of the Imperialists circulated among the officers of the army and sought to ascertain the disposition towards the Empire and whether there was any leaning in favor of restoration.

The members of the party of the Right Centre in the National Assembly, offered to support Marshal McMahon for Vice President of the French Republic, but the Marshal declined. It is reported that Ponyer Quertier has indefinitely resigned the portfolio of Minister of Finance.

SHORT PARAGRAPHS.

Curious things happen in Italy. An American "party" traveling in that country attempted to pass himself off as Andy Johnson, ex-President of the United States, and for that they put him away in jail for the space of a calendar month. Suppose they should catch the genuine A. J. over there. To be consistent the least they could do would be to hang him.

Mary Clemmer Ames writes from Washington to the New York Independent that Vice President Colfax wishes to retire from politics "to make money for his boy." That boy must have raised the paternal dander lately to an extent unusual in the smiling and genial President of the Senate, for it is confidently announced that he will remain in public life and let young hopeful slide.

The "Custom House revelations" at New York are much talked of. The New York Herald dismisses them with this remark: They are about the same that we have had under every administration, more or less, since the time of General Jackson. The case as it now stands is Fenton vs. Conkling, which is the old Custom House squabble of hardshells and softshells, under Pierce. It is the old fight of the outs against the ins; and the same old rule will apply, that "possession is nine points of the law."

The Evening Post, of New York, itself an anti-Grant paper, rebukes the scurrilous course of a portion of the press toward Gen. Grant. It says: "The friends of the President are not the only persons who will be heartily glad to learn that there is not a word of evidence which tends to implicate Mr. Grant in any of the scandalous transactions with which he has been charged by partisan opponents in connection with the custom house. The evidence affords no excuse for assailing his personal integrity, and journals which have indulged their temper in aspersions of this kind would act wisely to retract them at once."

OREGON.

Skating is brisk at Salem.

People of Washington county are excited about the Portland plank road just now.

A postoffice has been established at Woodburn, Marion county, and A. Matholt has been appointed Postmaster.

The Alsea mail carrier reports that the bridges on the route are nearly all washed away. The bridge across Mary's river was entirely gone.

Farmers of Washington county say that wheat is badly damaged by the freezing weather. The wheat is thrown out of the ground by the freeze, and wilts in the sun in the afternoon.

In 1870 there were 4,427 persons in Oregon over ten years of age who could not read or write. So the census says. Of white male adults over twenty-one years of age in the State who are illiterate the number is 1,055.

The champion knitter has reached Dallas in the person of an old man with his knitting machine. He was itinerating through the country to do up the family knitting in each neighborhood. His machine and baggage were transported on a rough home-made cart which he had hauled over the hills and far away, through the mud and ice all the way from Amity.

THE TERRITORIES.

John C. Hileman, Register of the Land Office at Vancouver, was confirmed by the Senate on the 11th inst.

Remarkable thrift and growth are said to be manifested at Seattle. The town is the liveliest on the Sound.

The value of farm products in Washington Territory for the year ending June 1st, 1870, as shown by the census, was $2,111,982.

On the 16th inst. a man named Farmer was shot dead in a saloon at Whatcom, Bellingham Bay, by William Garman. The parties were in liquor. Garman was arrested.

The ship Elizabeth Kimball arrived at Port Madison, Puget Sound, last week, in four days and seven hours from San Francisco, being the shortest run by more than two days on record.

GENERAL NEWS CONDENSATIONS.

Geo. Botts, who murdered "Pot" Halstead at Newark, N. J., last summer, is to be hung on the 20th January.

Illinois has passed a liquor bill which provides that he who makes a man drunk must pay for his being taken care of till he gets sober.

Stokes declares that he can prove that Fisk had set men to follow him for a week before the shooting in order to take his (Stokes') life.

The State printing of California during the last twenty years has cost $1,826,276, or nearly $100,000 a year. People are getting tired of that sort of thing.

It is estimated that in 1871 California produced 500,200 boxes of apples and 230,000 boxes of peaches. This estimate is made by Luck & Co., fruit dealers of San Francisco.

The pall bearers at Gen. Halleck's funeral were L. D. Sturgis and Gen. Weitzel, Cols. J. Flint and Alexander, Hon. Leland Ballard, Z. M. Shirley, John Caperton and W. B. Belknap.

In the United States there are 5,000,074 persons over ten years of age, who cannot read or write. Three fourths of these are in the Southern States, and more than one-third of these three-fourths are whites.

An amendment to the Constitution of California to abolish grand juries has been introduced in the Legislature. There is a growing sentiment throughout the country in favor of this change. Several States have recently abolished them.

Senator Carpenter, of Wisconsin, in an argument on the one term principle a few days ago said: This would be trusting Gen. Grant more severely than Jefferson Davis, because although the latter is disqualified by the Fourteenth Amendment, it is still within the power of Congress to remove his disabilities, while President Grant would have no means of relief from his.

Not a Defaulter.

It was given out some time ago by the slanderous press that General Balloch of the Freedmen's Bureau was a defaulter to the amount of nearly a half million dollars. A telegram from Washington now gives this information in regard to it:

The Secretary of the Treasury will shortly reply to the resolution of the House of last month, offered by Mr. McNeely, a Democrat, making inquiry into the circumstances connected with the retirement of General Balloch from the position of Disbursing Agent of the Freedmen's Bureau. The Secretary of War will report that he was relieved because he placed a portion of the securities into which the funds were converted in the vaults of the National Safe Deposit Company, instead of the Treasury Department. The Secretary of the Treasury regards the conversion of the funds into United States bonds as an irregular act, though the accounting officers are of a different opinion, and so advised General Balloch at the time. The reports will also show that there is no evidence whatever to indicate any intent on the part of General Balloch to convert the interest to his own use, but that it has all been received and accounted for, and that the funds in General Balloch's hands showed a surplus of several thousand dollars when they were turned over.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN STATES.

Indictments Against Tweed and Connolly.

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—It is said that the Grand Jury of the Court of General Sessions, found an immense number of indictments. They found large amounts of money, often as much as a million dollars, placed in the bank at one time, to the credit of certain members of the Ring. It has also been found that something over six million dollars was stolen from the city Treasury. Five indictments were found against Tweed and fifteen against Connolly.

Cowhiding and Shooting at Columbia.

A special from Columbia states that Byas, a colored member of the Legislature, attempted to cowhide Tomlison, a correspondent of the Charleston News, for something he had written, when Tomlison shot his assailant, whose recovery is believed to be impossible.

Heavy Damage Suit.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—The first of one hundred and nine suits brought against the Staten Island Ferry Company by the surviving sufferers by the Westfield explosion, was decided to-day. The jury awarded $5,000, the full amount claimed, to a widow whose husband was killed by the explosion.

The fleet passed Sandy Hook at 8 this morning bound to Pensacola.

Removal of the Remains of General Halleck to Jersey City.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 23.—The remains of Gen. Halleck reached here about 5 o'clock this morning in a special car, on the Louisville and Cincinnati short line of railroads in charge of [illegible] Express Co. On the way they were accompanied by an escort of the Twenty-third Ohio, and a few personal friends. The body was placed in a hearse and followed by five carriages and escort to the Little Miami railroad depot. The New port Barracks band awaited its arrival at Little Miami depot, but there was no attempt at public demonstration. The Express Co. takes the body to Jersey City.

The Wharton Case—Jury Cannot Agree.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 23.—A dispatch from Annapolis, 11:30 P. M., says the jury in the Wharton case have not yet agreed. It is said to stand seven for acquittal and five for conviction. The Court meets to-morrow at 9 o'clock A. M., and in case of a continued disagreement and no verdict rendered, the State will have the right to remove the case to any Court in the State except that of Baltimore.

Pillage of Bagdad by Outlaws.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 23.—Bagdad, at the mouth of the Rio Grande, was pillaged last night by a band of outlaws, claiming to be revolutionists, but really only robbers. The raid has no significance except as showing the weakness of the authorities and the lawlessness of the country.

Connecticut Republican Convention.

HARTFORD, Jan. 23.—The Republican State Convention meets to-morrow. Probably Governor Jewell and the rest of the State officers will be renominated. Delegates to the National Convention will also be chosen.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Marriage of Secretary Robeson.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—Secretary Robeson and Mrs. Aulick were married this morning. The President and Cabinet, and their families, were present. Robeson left for the North.

The Daily Oregonian.

THURSDAY MORNING, JANUARY 25, 1872.

Where Grant's Strength Lies.

The Herald says: "It is the fact alone that Grant is now in power and has offices and rewards to bestow, that secures him any considerable number of friends; and if he is renominated it will be his office holders who will secure him that result."

Could anything exceed the futility and folly of these assertions? Consider. It has been proven times enough, one would think, that office holders cannot renominate a President whom the people do not want. Of what avail to Andrew Johnson were his office holders and all the rewards of political patronage that were at his disposal? Tyler played for a renomination; did he get it? Beyond question the vote of Oregon in the Philadelphia Convention will be thrown for Grant. But if the Republican masses of Oregon did not want Grant renominated, what could the office-holders do toward giving him the vote of the State in Convention? They would be absolutely powerless, and any effort they might make would be utterly abortive and ridiculous. Grant's strength is with the people, and they would renominate him, and re-elect him too, if every office-holder in the land were arrayed against him. He has the confidence of the country, and by common consent of Republicans will be the next candidate for the Presidency. The people took him up and elected him before, and, as they elected him then they see no reason why they should refuse to support him now. He has the confidence of the country to a greater degree than he had when he was put in nomination in 1868. The editor of the Herald may ask any dozen Republicans he meets—men who never held office and never expect to,—what they think of running Grant for a second term, and ten of the twelve will answer that they are in favor of it. It is so throughout the whole country. To say that office-holders create this sentiment is nonsense and folly. The simple truth is, the judgment of the country approves in the main of Gen. Grant's Administration, and is satisfied with its results. Here is the source of his strength, and here is the reason why no other candidate is seriously talked of in Republican circles.

The influence of office-holders is very often ridiculously magnified. They have no influence at all in shaping politics except when they second the wishes of the people. When they attempt to set up a nomination in opposition to the popular will of the people, and try to force on the country a President whom the country does not want, their efforts intensify popular feeling and resentment, and help to bring about results exactly opposite to those they aim at. Pitt was once remonstrated with for turning the heads and leading away the minds of the people with his captivating eloquence. "Not so," he answered, "eloquence is in the audience, not in the orator,"—meaning thereby that an orator could be successful only as he was able to give expression in the best and most forcible way to the thoughts and wishes of those who heard him.

It is precisely so in the case we are considering. "Grant's office holders," of whom so much is said, would be powerless to make friends for him, or to secure his re-nomination, against the wishes of the people. They can do nothing except as their efforts meet popular approval, any more than Pitt could make a successful speech if he did not have the sympathy of his auditors.

Indian War Claims.

On the 27th Feb., 1871, the Senate of the United States at the instance of Mr. Corbett passed a resolution requesting the Secretary of the Treasury to furnish the Senate with information relative to claims incurred in suppressing Indian hostilities in Oregon and Washington Territories, and which were noted and reported upon by the Commission authorized by the act of August 18th, 1856. Also a list of the claims not acted or reported on by that Commission. The two lists have been furnished. The first is brief. It embraces the names of about one hundred claimants and an aggregate of claims amounting to $17,421 73. The Third Auditor, through whom the information is furnished to the Secretary, expresses no opinion as to the merits of these claims, but contents himself with saying that there has been no authority for adjudication. The other list is more extensive and embraces several hundred names. Claims under it foot up $52,492.01. The Auditor remarks that no examination of their merits has ever been made, for the reason that there is no authority to settle them. Senator Corbett will make an effort to procure Congressional authority for that purpose.

Senators Elected.

John Sherman has been re-elected United States Senator for Ohio. He received seventy-three votes out of one hundred and forty. His Democratic competitor was Gen. Geo. W. Morgan. A few Republican votes were scattering. Mr. Sherman is one of the ablest and safest of Republican Senators, and his re-election is a fortunate thing for the country. Senator Harlan has been defeated in Iowa by William B. Allison. He has long been a member of Congress and is a capable legislator. His official career, like his Republican record, is unsullied. The Republicans of Iowa have brought one of their best men to the front.

On the morning after Fisk was shot and before his death occurred, the New York Times said: "Whether James Fisk, Jr., lives or dies, there is no reason for disguising how unlovely his career has been. As a fellow man lying in agony and under fear of death, we may give him such sympathy as our human instincts prompt. As one of the greatest foes of the highest interests of his country and his generation, his memory cannot but be execrated to the end of time."

The Northern Pacific Railroad company has just closed a contract with the locomotive establishment of Baird & Co., of Philadelphia, for fifty first-class engines for that road. The Philadelphia Post congratulates its readers on the fact that in addition to these and some forty other engines, the Northern Pacific Railroad company have already purchased railroad material in Philadelphia to the amount of $5,000,000.

The operator at San Francisco has thought it worth while to telegraph to us about one column of stuff relative to a banquet given to the Japanese embassy at that city. We do not want this matter. But we do want other news that we don't get.

It is given out in Democratic circles at the East that the Democratic National Convention will not be held until late in the summer, and that St. Louis will be chosen as the place.

Capt. Bent's Theory.

Capt Silas Bent has been lecturing in St. Louis on his theory of "thermometric gateways to the pole." The Captain finds in the record of recent explorations in the Arctic region ample confirmation of his opinion about the existence of an open polar sea, as well as of the proper course to be taken in reaching it. This open sea he holds to be simply the termination of the north-east branch of the gulf stream, and consequently it is by following the course of the heated current from the equator that the pole can be discovered. He has at various times elaborated this theory in lectures and magazine articles. Among other things in his St. Louis lecture, Capt. Bent alluded to the startling hypothesis, that to reduce Northern Europe to a frozen wilderness, we have only to make a big enough cutting in the Isthmus of Panama to send the surplus equatorial current of the Atlantic into the Pacific, instead of having it diverted, as now, to the shores of Europe. As the cost of reducing in this way England, and Germany, and Northern Europe, to their natural climate-level—that of Labrador—would be two or three hundred thousand millions of dollars, a contemporary thinks there is no immediate necessity of the Powers of the Old World revolving how to anticipate us in the possession of the Isthmus of Panama.

The ninth census reports give an aggregate of $9,261,775,121 as the true value of the farms of the United States. Adding $330,890,871 for agricultural implements, $1,524,271,714 for domestic animals, and we have a total agricultural capital of $11,122,937,706 in 1870 against $7,983,301,641 in 1860; an increase in ten years of $3,139,636,065, or about forty per cent.

Virtuous Reformers.

The Cincinnati Commercial is among the most persistent and bitter of the anti-Grant journals. But it has a correspondent in Washington who sends it some interesting facts concerning the grave and virtuous Senatorial trio, Trumbull, Schurz and "Little Tippy," otherwise Tipton of Nebraska, they who are devoting their time and whatever talents they possess to the business of dodrying the President of the United States. The Washington Chronicle gives a synopsis of the Commercial's letter:

At first, attention is invited to the case of Trumbull. This gentleman was elected to the Senate in the winter or spring of 1861, about the time of the breaking out of the war, as a Republican. In the Senate of Illinois the Republicans had a majority of one, and that majority was secured by the election in the Sangamon District, through the influence of Mr. Lincoln's personal popularity in the canvass, of a brother-in-law of Mr. Trumbull, the district having always been Democratic. Immediately after his election Trumbull applied to Mr. Lincoln to appoint his Senatorial relative to a civil office. Mr. Lincoln remonstrated, and set forth the certainty of the election of a Democrat to fill the vacancy, which would give the State Senate to the opposition. Trumbull, with his usual pigheadedness, persisted, and the appointment was made. The result was, the State Senate was given to the Democrats in the critical time of the outbreak of the war, and the Administration much embarrassed. But the brother-in-law was not yet satisfied. As a pension agent in Illinois, the President had appointed a discharged soldier who had gallantly served his country in battle, and who fulfilled the duties of his office in a most satisfactory manner. Trumbull's relative made known his desire for this place, and the soldier had to go. Under the rule then prevailing the Senator had the control of that appointment, and the President reluctantly consented to the change. It so happened that Mr. Lincoln sent to the Senate at the same time the name of a man of irreproachable character, who had lost his health in rebel prisons, for postmaster at a town in Illinois. This last appointee was a man who had been the Major of Gen. Grant's own regiment. The Senatorial brother-in-law was promptly confirmed, while the Major was as promptly rejected. The only cause assigned for the rejection of the latter was that the incumbent, though a civilian, was the son of a special friend of Trumbull's, and he should not be molested. The correspondent here says: "There are several other instances of the efforts of the distinguished Illinois reformer to secure good places for his relatives, which shall be reported again, but a single case must suffice at this time for each of the Senators named." Let's have the other "instances" as soon as possible, that the country may understand how deep-seated is Mr. Trumbull's honesty. Now we come to our special friend, "Little Tippy." This diminutive, wiry specimen of humanity was formerly of Ohio, but now hails, to Ohio's great delight, from Nebraska, to the corresponding disgust of that State. We quote: "This gentleman is a kind of nondescript in politics, statesmanship and religion. He fully vindicated his claim to be the possessor of high moral views of political economy, a little while ago, by urging Congress to offer liberal premiums for Indian scalps." He was also specially ordained as a minister of the Gospel, that he might be commissioned as chaplain of a volunteer regiment during the war, and some how or other drifted into the Senate, to the surprise of all his Ohio acquaintances." And so it appears that Tippy is a fraud, even in religion. Within the last half year this model Senator obtained a clerkship from the President for his dearly beloved son, a youth said to be a regular chip of the old block. Said son still draws his pay with Tiptonian regularity and promptness. The gentle Schurz had his brother-in-law appointed to a lucrative office under the National Government at Chicago. These are all facts, which the public may not find uninteresting. They go to show most conclusively the devotion of the gentlemen named to an honest reform of the civil service, and cannot fail to convince the reader of the sincerity of their raid upon the President.

Indians in Oregon and Washington.

The Board of Indian Commissioners, in making their third annual report, speak thus of the condition of the Indians in this State and in the Territory of Washington:

The condition of the Indians in Oregon and Washington is vastly better than individual statements and common rumor have led us to anticipate. Many of them are industrious and labor on their reservations, and others, as at Grand Ronde and along Puget Sound, labor for the farmers at the sawmills and receive the commendation of their employers and the agents. They have adopted the costume, and are rapidly acquiring the habits of the whites. Some of them are Christians, and exemplary for their consistent lives. There are also many who have learned more of the vices than the virtues of civilization. This class, attracted as they are to the vicinity of towns and railroads, are most frequently seen by the citizen and traveler, and give a mistaken color to his opinion of the race. When it is remembered that the Indians of Oregon and Washington were only placed upon reservations from ten to fifteen years ago, but few of them more than twelve, it must be admitted that their progress toward civilization has been wonderfully rapid.

A CURIOUS BET.—At Newberry, England, Sir John Throckmorton made a wager of a thousand guineas that at eight o'clock on a particular evening he would sit down to dinner in a well woven, well dyed, well made suit of clothes, the wool of which formed the fleece on sheep's backs at five o'clock that same morning. Two sheep were shorn, the wool was washed, carded, stubbed, roved, spun and woven, the cloth was scoured, fulled, tented, raised, sheared, dyed and dressed, the garments were made, and at a quarter past six in the evening Sir John sat down to a dinner, at the head of his guests, in a complete damson-colored suit, thus winning his wager, with one hour and three-quarters to spare.

PACIFIC COAST DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—Wheat in Liverpool, 12s 4d.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—During the night the gale from the northeast has been setting in with much violence, and still continues. The bar is very rough and the air comfortably cold but cloudless. The schooner Osceola went ashore at North Beach in the gale, but has been hauled off by a tug. The schooner Star of the Union is ashore at the same place. The ship Coarsewitch is badly damaged by pounding against Hathaway wharf. The ship Arkwright Quarter was considerably damaged in the same manner at Vallejo wharf.

The steamer Idaho, from Gunymas and way ports, brought $288,760 in treasure.

The London Syndicate, organized by J. Ross Browne, has authorized by telegraph the absolute purchase of several large tracts of the lands, bonded by him a few months since, and will direct the immediate commencement of reclamation works on a large scale.

At the grand Japanese banquet last evening the following toasts were given: "The President of the United States;" "The Tenno of Japan;" "The Army," responded to by General Schofield; "The Navy," by Commodore Parrott; "Our distinguished guests," by his Excellency, Iwakura, and Governor Ito; "Our relations with Japan," by Hon. Charles E. De Long. "The State of California" was responded to by ex Governor Haight, who said: It was Commodore Tatnall, I think, who said on the occasion of the attack upon the Peiho Forts, "Blood is thicker than water." The Commodore has been justly honored for the sentiment, but on this occasion we will rise to a higher level and embrace in our vision and sympathies not simply the affinity of the Anglo Saxon, but the unity of the human race expressed by the highest of all authorities, which declares that God has made of one blood all men that dwell on the face of the earth. We may differ on points of inference, deduction from the truth, but it is not less one of great truth, if not the great central truth of this age. In the presence of this truth, what would be your highest ambition for the State, that is, for the people of California? If I were to name what I would desire above most other things, it would be that the people of California might be instrumental in educating millions of Asia, and especially this interesting Empire of Japan, to higher and purer Christian civilization. It was for this purpose, in part, that the march of events has planted upon the Pacific coast these growing Anglo-Saxon communities, before whom it is opening so grand a future, to be foremost in such a work; and to be mainly instrumental in the work, would reflect more honor upon California than all her treasures of mineral wealth, her teeming fields of grain, her orange groves, her fruits and flowers, her mountains and valleys, her transcendent scenery and sky. This world, Mr. Chairman, is a great school room; your merchants are the instructors; commerce the great educator; the interchange of products and of manufactures is always an interchange of thoughts and ideas, imparting instruction and stimulating progress. Let us have commerce then in its largest sense, unrestricted travel and trade and commercial intercourse. Break down those barriers of prejudice; rise above narrow national bigotry, and let commerce enfold the millions of Asia in its fostering embrace. Let California, our own noble Golden State, lead the van in the extinction of a system of exclusiveness under which no nation could permanently prosper and foolish its mission in the interests of perfect civilization. One word more and I have done. There is no one here but ourselves, and that one word I would say is: We here are Providentially placed in near relations with these exclusive civilizations. The changes wrought by trans continental communication have changed forever the area of commercial distribution for this city. We can never do the business of the Mississippi valley, and probably we shall not extend our inland commercial area beyond the summit of the great mountain chain. To compensate for that, we must gather up the Islands of the Sea and push our trade in the unnumbered populations of the Asiatic world.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—Wm. Kelly, who got angry with a friend over a game of cards, followed him out on Vallejo street and shot him nearly to death with a hatchet (?)

The gale still continues. The night is very cold. The schooner Star of the Union is now high and dry at North Beach.

This morning about two o'clock a collision occurred on the street between McCarthy, of the Chronicle, and Southerland, local editor of the Call, in which it is alleged that the former drew a pistol, and attacked the latter, threatening to kill him on the spot.

This evening Charles Marne, an expressman, was arrested on the charge of manslaughter. It appears that he pushed a sailor named Nicholas Kennedy out of a saloon, on the cor. of Davis and Vallejo Sts., and the latter falling, broke his neck, dying instantly. Marne alleges that it was purely an accident. The victim only fell a few feet, and the case resulting fatally it is a most remarkable one.

The schooner Josephine, while attempting to enter this harbor this afternoon, went ashore on Point Lobos, and will probably be a total loss.

The weather continues unabated in violence.

The bark Brontes, which partially parted her hawser drifted against the Oakland railroad wharf, carrying away some piles, was hauled out into the bay and anchored. At Pacific street wharf the Young America carried away the end of the wharf and was somewhat damaged. The steamers Amelia and Amador are both somewhat damaged.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 24.—Heavy wind storm this afternoon—raining at all points as far as San Diego.

CALISTOGA, Jan. 24.—Heavy norther blowing since 9 o'clock last night; could hear it two hours before it struck the valley. Windows, trees, arbors and stoops went down, and still it blows. Great damage is done throughout the valley.

SANTA BARBARA, Jan 24.—Heavy blow from the north; commenced raining at 2 P. M. to-day.

SAN JOSE, Jan. 24.—J. W. Houn, convicted of murder in the second degree, will be sentenced to-morrow.

An inquest was held to day on the body of Frederick Studt, who committed suicide by shooting himself through the head with a pistol. The jury returned a verdict of temporary insanity.

STOCKTON, Jan. 24.—To-day has been the most disagreeable known for years, the wind blowing a perfect hurricane from the north and northwest, and still continues. As yet no damage has been sustained.

Progress of the Rebellion.

The State of Sonora is free from revolutionists.

Pesqueira is sending forward troops with all possible dispatch, to re-capture Masatlan.

Gov. Bulnes, of Sinaloa, is at Culiacan raising troops to co-operate with those from Sonora, who will be commanded by Gen. Garcia.

The revolutionists of Mazatlan had decreed that silver bullion should pay 6 per cent. export duty, silver coin 4 per cent, and gold coin nothing.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—Arrived—Bark Buena Vista, Port Gamble; brig Tanner, Seabeck; barks Onward, Umatilla, Violetta, Tacoma, Caravelick, Seattle.

Outside—Steamer Monitor, bark Adelaida Cooper, and several other lumber vessels.

Sailed—Bark Scotland, Seattle.

THE NEBULAR HYPOTHESIS has received new confirmation from the discoveries made by the spectroscope. Prof. Kirkwood states, in the American Journal of Science, "that it has demonstrated the present existence of immense nebulous masses, such as that from which Laplace supposed the solar system to have been derived." It has shown, moreover, a progressive change in their physical structure, in accordance with the views of the same astronomer. In short, the evidence afforded by the spectrum analysis in favor of the nebular hypothesis is cumulative, and of itself sufficient to give this celebrated theory a high degree of probability.—Scientific Press.

Notice has been taken of the indictment and arrest, and subsequent release on bail, of Gen. Krzyzanowski, lately Supervisor of Internal Revenue for Georgia, for conspiracy to defraud the Government. This is an exceedingly bad case, since the charge is that a Collector, Gould, was seduced by Krzyzanowski into using the money of the Government for the private advantage of both. Singularly enough this man was appointed to the position which he misused on the recommendation of that pure statesman and reformer, Senator Schurz.

Wife—"Well, to tell the truth, I didn't think much of the close of the sermon." Husband—"Probably you were thinking more of the clothes of the congregation."

TEA AND SILK IN CALIFORNIA.—An enterprising Japanese recently brought over an enormous quantity of tea plants, which are to be planted as an experiment in California. Sixteen thousand tea plants are from the southern part of the island of Niphon, where the finest of Japanese tea is produced. The coast valleys of northern California are considered best suited to the culture of tea. The same Japanese who has brought over the tea plants, imported 500,000 cards of silk worms' eggs, some time since, the majority of which were placed in California. He has now brought over a second installment, and native Japanese are to teach the young "cocoon" how to shoot, in the most approved style.

An Ohio office holder is charged with being a relative of the President on two grounds: First, the office holder's first wife was a sister-in-law of the President's aunt on the mother's side. Second, the office holder's sister married a brother of the President's brother's mother-in-law.

Failure of many of the most eminent physicians of San Francisco to cure a case of Rheumatism.—Triumph of the Oak Wood Remedy.

SAN JOSE, August 26, 1871.

DR. A. M. LOVELL & CO.: This is to certify that I the undersigned, have been sick for five years with Rheumatism, and have been treated for many ailments. My trouble has been weakness of the back and side, and wandering pains all over my body. I have been treated by many of the most eminent physicians of San Francisco, as well as of this city, but without any effect. At last I was induced to try your UNK WEED REMEDY, and the result was that after taking the contents of two bottles I found myself perfectly cured. To all afflicted with Rheumatism, I say TRY THE UNK WEED REMEDY, and you will be cured. Yours truly, JAMES AHERN, San Jose.

CITY.

NEW BOOKS.—The following new books have just been received and placed in the Portland Library:

Walt. Whitman's American Institute, a poem entitled "After all not to Create only."

Association, or the Soul of Power, by A. S. Roe, author of "To Love and to be Loved."

Illustrated Library of Wonders—"The Wonders of Water"—from the French of Gaston Fissander; edited with numerous additions by Scheie de Vere, D. D., LL. D.

English Lessons for English People, by Rev. Edwin A. Abbott, M. A., and J. R. Seeley, Professor of Modern History in the University of Cambridge.

Ones from all Quarters, or the Literary Musings of a Clerical Recluse.

The Doctor's Daughter, by Sophie May.

The Invasion of France in 1814, Comprising the Eight March of the Russian Army Past Phalsbourg; from the French of M. M. Erckmann Chatrian.

History of English Literature, by H. A. Taine; translated by H. Van Laun, one of the Masters of the Edinburgh Academy.

Dunston Abbey; by Thos. Adolphus Trollope; a novel.

The Lady of Provence, or Humbled and Healed—a Tale of the French Revolution—by A. L. O. E.

JURORS DRAWN.—The following persons were yesterday drawn by the County Clerk and Sheriff to serve as jurors at the next term of the Circuit Court, which commences on the second Monday in February: E. St. John, carpenter; William Cree, speculator; A. G. Watson, cattle drover; H. Barker, farmer; William Beck, Jr., gunsmith; P. G. Baker, contractor; R. Weeks, grocer; O. Bernard, saddler; Lewis Blum, trader; Benjamin Sandeland, farmer; William Cornell, farmer; J. S. Bill, trader; R. M. Wilbur, speculator; S. M. Lyon, broker; H. L. Prettyman, ——; P. B. Scholl, grocer; Lot Taylor, carpenter; Z. Cook, merchant; J. M. Caywood, contractor; R. G. Combs, carpenter; W. T. Shanahan, music dealer; William Bancroft, trader; W. F. Wilcox, manufacturer; John Wilson, merchant; A. G. Walling, printer; E. H. Tuttle, wagon-maker; W. E. Gee, ——, mechanic; Ed. Albright, farmer; Ed. Weeks, saloon-keeper; E. G. Whitehouse, clerk; Frank H. West, clerk.

INQUIRIES.—Hardly a day passes but we hear of or are shown inquiries of the trade and commerce of our city. We were yesterday shown a letter from one of California's capitalists to a leading Front street firm asking for the statistics of imports and exports since 1860, together with other inquiries, such as would be asked concerning any commercial city. Railroad, navigation and other incorporated companies cannot give too much facilities to commercial editors for obtaining statistics, and they should see to it that commercial editors are rendered all the assistance required by them in the prosecution of their work.

FROM THE UPPER COLUMBIA.—The following weather report was received at the O. S. N. Co.'s Office yesterday morning: Cascades—Weather, clear; thermometer, 20 deg.; river full of running ice. Dalles—Thermometer, 23 deg.; river full of skim ice; every indication of a snow storm. Umatilla—Cloudy; thermometer, 25 deg.; prospects of a snow storm. Walla Walla—Very cold; thermometer, 17 deg. Wallula—Thermometer, 18 deg.; river full of ice.

THE BOATS.—Yesterday the steamboat Dixie Thompson was sheated so as to protect her against the ice and left at 10 o'clock in the morning to resume her regular trips on the Columbia river. We are informed that the Rescue did not stop, as she left here for Monticello on her regular day, Thursday. The Fannie Troup had her engines detached undergoing some kind of repairs, and did not go down yesterday.

SKATING.—Those of our skaters who have tried the small sized lake in Carothers' Addition have, like the old woman, come out second best. Yesterday, one gentleman broke through the ice there, and after getting out, sat on a log in close proximity, and said he laughed so heartily and so long at the singular antics cut up by five others who fell through, near where he did, that he shook his clothes dry.

THE MAILS.—We are receiving our regular installments of back mail, and we are again made happy by being able to see the cheerful face of our veteran exchanges. The Dixie Thompson took down to Kalama, there to be taken by the Rescue and conveyed to Monticello, the heaviest U. S. for Puget Sound ports that has ever been dispatched at any one time before.

THE FESTIVAL.—The festival at the Presbyterian Church last night was a success in every sense. That is the way to draw out the beauties of Portland, and the young men should understand it, judging from the number in attendance. Why not try this mode of entertainment at least once a week?

THE SALE OF FURNITURE TO-DAY.—Ladies desirous of attending the sale of the Chemeketa House furniture to-day at the sales rooms of Mr. Middlemiss, No. 8 Front street, will find preparations made for their comfort. The rooms will be comfortably warmed. Sale commences at ten o'clock this morning.

ELECTION.—The Good Templars Hall Association last evening elected the following Directors to serve one year: Jacob Stitzel, W. Lair Hill, Chas. Hodge, A. G. Walling, Donald Mackey, S. A. Moreland and Jas. A. Smith. The new Board will meet this evening to complete their organization.

ALMOST A COLLISION.—As the steamer E. N. Cooke was passing up the river yesterday, when near Stark street, the ferry boat started out, but by a warning "toot" of the whistle the ferry boat was stopped in time to avoid a collision, which was imminent.

PROMPT PAYMENT.—E. D. Towle's house in Salem was burned down on Sunday. On Monday the Imperial Fire Insurance Company's agent went up, and yesterday the amount of the insurance, covering both house and furniture, $3,000, was remitted to him.

FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The steamship Ajax is announced to leave for San Francisco, Saturday, Jan. 27th, at 4 o'clock, P. M.

MAIL TO THE DALLES.—Postmaster Wakefield will forward a mail overland to the Dalles at ten o'clock this morning.

FOR VANCOUVER.—The steamer Vancouver leaves this morning at 11 o'clock for Vancouver.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The steamship Ajax had on 550 tons of general merchandise for Portland.

The year before last was 1870. This year is eighteen hundred and seventy—100.

New buckets were being attached to the wheel of the steamer Vancouver yesterday.

The Stark street ferry is again guided by the wire cable. A good thing while it lasts.

There is a message in the Western Union Telegraph office for Wm. A. Daly and Wm. Fuller.

Can't the orchestra at the Theater give us some of the popular music? A change now and then, gentlemen.

Geo. Ainsworth, formerly of this city, is interested in the publication of the San Francisco University. Echo.

The new military company drilled last evening at Armory Hall. They will be heard from more fully in a few days.

The steamship California took on a "donkey" engine to facilitate handling of the granite for the Custom House.

The "Old Philharmonics," with their friends, were entertained at Judge Deady's last evening. An enjoyable affair.

The "Old Philharmonic" Terpsichorean Club have engaged the Hall on the second floor of the new Masonic building.

The house at the East end of the Stark street ferry is occupied as a saloon. Accommodations are needed for ladies at that end.

During a rush, which occurs frequently at the Postoffice, the male sex should make way for the ladies and not keep them standing often five or ten minutes.

Has the Bulletin's editor heard of the Dixie Thompson being "sheathed" yesterday morning so as to successfully make her way through the floating ice which she did yesterday.

Work of every description in the house finishing line will be done at short notice to the best of satisfaction.
PAUL RICHTER.

ANNUAL REPORTS FROM SCHOOL DISTRICTS.

PORTLAND, Jan. 24, 1872.

The Clerks of the several School Districts of Multnomah county are hereby notified that their reports for the year should be soon prepared and returned to the undersigned. It is hoped that the interest on the school fund, to be distributed for the first time this year—as we suppose—will give at least one dollar and a quarter to every pupil reported on the basis of last year. Our county should receive about $4,400. The next year's distribution will be based on the reported pupils of this year. As districts, which fail to have schools three months, lose their portion of the school money, it is the interest, as well as the duty, of every district to retain its organization and have its school annually.

G. H. ATKINSON,
Sup't Schools Multnomah County.

P. S.—The enclosed law guides the School District Clerk:

Sec. 32. It shall be the duty of District Clerks:

4. To make in his record an early report for his district, and send a copy thereof to the County School Superintendent; such report to embrace the following, and shall, as near as may be, be submitted in the following form, to-wit:

YEARLY REPORT OF SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. ——

No. legal voters.....
No. persons over 4 and under 20 years of age.....
No. male scholars.....
No. female scholars.....
No. quarters school taught.....
Kinds of books used, where, &c.....
.....1871.
No. scholars in average attendance.....
Amount paid teachers from district tax.....
Amount received and paid teachers out of county funds.....
Amount of incidental expenses.....
Total amount tax levied and collected.....
Names of teachers employed, where.....

A. B., District Clerk.

Sec. 21. Districts shall not be entitled to their proportion of the school fund at the disposal of the County School Superintendent, unless they shall report to him by the first Monday of March of each year, and shall have held a school taught in their district of three months' duration in each year. When thus forfeited, no recourse whatever shall be had to obtain the same.

COMMON COUNCIL.

REGULAR MEETING, JAN. 24, 1872.

Present—His Honor Mayor Wasserman, and Councilmen Besser, Burton, Caywood, Combs, Congle, Moffett and Story.

PETITIONS.

From the Odd Fellows Hall Association for specifying that the City Clock over their building was furnished with gas works since it was placed in position, but as the Gas Company had ceased to furnish it any longer the Association would feel obliged if the city would pay for it. They would agree to have the clock in good order. On motion of Mr. Besser it was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

CLAIMS.

The following bills were ordered to be paid: C. H. Myers, $337.08; Himes & Buchholder, $59 75; Herald Printing Company, $23 90; H. L. Pittock, $264; A. Hamilton, $134 00.

ORDINANCES.

The Committee on Ways introduced an ordinance to make and appropriate out of the General Fund to pay for the expenses of the City Government for the ensuing year. On motion it was read and laid over.

RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Besser introduced resolutions to improve First and South First Sts., and Third and South Third Sts., from Columbia to Jefferson Sts. Adopted. Adjourned.

DRAMATIC.

Barker's Panorama was at Grass Valley on the 6th.

Bosco has been along the Sound. He is expected back this month.

J. H. Vinson is still at the Metropolitan Theater, San Francisco, as Stage Manager.

Mrs. F. M. Bates played Queen Elizabeth at the Sacramento Theater on the 8th and 10th.

"Through Fire" and "Peril" are the latest productions of Bartley T. Campbell, formerly of the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati Press. They have been successful.

AMUSEMENTS.

ONE FINE THEATER.—Last evening there was an increase in the attendance. "Enoch Arden" was produced for the last time. The acting of the entire company was excellent and the scenic effects were worked up perfectly. This play, in the hands of Mr. Waldron's company, will meet with favor at any time it is brought out. Richelieu will be repeated to-night with Mr. and Mrs. Waldron in the leading roles. A good house may be anticipated.

SKATING RINK.—This place of amusement will be open as usual to-night, and the arrangements will continue as per advertisement elsewhere. We presume the management will bring out more novelties shortly.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

FRESH SMELT.—Quinn, at the Union Market, Washington street, received last night two tons of fresh smelt, enough to supply the city for a day at least. Every one will have a chance to-day, and at the very lowest figures. Hotels and restaurants supplied at low rates, and purchases delivered.

NO CHARGE FOR CONSULTATION.—Dr. Aborn wishes to inform the afflicted that he makes no charge for consultations. His opinion in all cases is given free of charge.

THE NEW ENGLAND MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY was incorporated in 1835, and is therefore the oldest purely Mutual Life Insurance Company in the United States; it has cash assets of over $10,000,000, and is the only Company on the Pacific Coast [illegible] by the Massachusetts Non-Forfeiture Law, offering all the advantages of age and prudent management, its average expenses being lower than any other Company in the United States. It also offers protection against forfeiture by virtue of the Massachusetts Non-Forfeiture Law, which is a feature of great importance, and should be carefully considered by all persons seeking insurance. TESTIMONIALS.

We the undersigned having been the recipients of the services of Mrs. M. C. White in teaching the science of Music on the Pianoforte, take pleasure in giving a hearty Testimonial that we have employed her in our families as a teacher of her "New Method of Instruction;" and that it has proven superior to any method we have ever known. And that although the first cost may be a trifle greater than some others, we believe it to be far the aggregate much cheaper, beside being a great economy in point of time. We therefore, take pleasure in recommending her to the patronage of all who may be desirous of obtaining a musical education, as a very superior instructor.

To those who desire to know more about it before increasing any expense, we give a cordial invitation to call at our house and interview her pupils.

For references are advertisement.

EAST PORTLAND, Jan. 9, 1872.

MRS. M. C. WHITE—Respected Madam: Having heard of your System of teaching the Pianoforte, known as the Robbins' American Method, and having been present a few days since, at the exercises of one of your pupils, Miss Lane, of East Portland, I was much surprised and exceedingly gratified, at the perfect performance of the most difficult pieces, (such as Gottschalk Bango, etc) and this after the short term of six months tuition.

Allow me to express my approbation of your System of your Instruction, and with my best wishes for your success allow me to subscribe myself,
Yours Respectfully,
TH. PARROT, Prof. of Music,
and Leader of the East Portland Band.

An Appeal to Reason.

Health would be much more carefully guarded than it is at present, and the average of human life lengthened by many years, if common sense and the light of experience were accepted by the universal public as their medical monitor and guide. The true philosophy of health is simple. It consists in refraining from indulgences and improvidences which impair the vital forces, and in supplying any deficiency of vital power and constitutional vigor that may exist, by invigorating and alterative treatment. To refrain from and regulate a feeble system, and to prevent a more vigorous plethora from yielding to unhealthy and debilitating influences, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is unquestionably the most potent of all vegetable purifiers. As a stimulant, it is the purest ever administered in medical practice, as a tonic and stomachic, the most infallible, as an anti-bilious agent, the safest and surest, and as an aperient and regulating medicine, mild and painless, yet irresistible. It is a protection against diseases of every kind, and all seasons, and is particularly efficacious as a means of forearming the system against the ailments generated by a raw, damp, autumnal atmosphere. Hence its great value as a winter tonic and invigorant. No one predisposed to indigestion, biliousness, constipation, rheumatism or nervous headache, should ever be without this Vital Elixir. As a certain cure of country dealers are very anxious to dose their customers with "local bitters," of a worthless and pernicious character, which they represent to be equal or superior to the great national tonic, the public is hereby forewarned against their "tricks of trade."

LITTLE HOMES!
WE HAVE OBTAINED MANY TESTIMONIALS, which appear in the WEEKLY OREGONIAN, for the purpose of answering once for all the many inquiries in relation to our "LITTLE HOMES." We desire to show to strangers, through men of known integrity in this community that they are all we claim for them—cheap at present prices, and the speculation in them also in the future growth of Portland, in the building of Railroads, and Bridges over the Willamette—which is merely a question of time—and in the fact that in less than one mile distant, City Blocks (200 feet square) are selling for from two to three thousand dollars, and in less than two-and-a-half miles (on a direct line) blocks are selling as high as $200,000 per block! Just think of it! $50 per acre for land, and 2½ miles distant, $200,000 per acre! New York city is over twenty miles in length and six miles wide, and many other cities in the United States are half that long, and quite as wide, and if Portland becomes a metropolis she will require this land for business purposes. Thirty years ago we could have purchased a section of land where the Business portion of Chicago now stands for $10 per acre. $50 for a five acre tract. Thirty years ago we could have purchased the town site of Portland for a Cayuse pony—but we didn't have the pony! Twenty years ago a solitary individual, with neither money nor friends, hoed himself in Portland without a red. He purchased a basket "on tick," and filled it with oranges, on the same terms, and went to peddling. Twenty long, eventful years have since elapsed. Still the sturdy old pioneer has stuck to Portland, and worked his way through thick and thin; and now where do you think he is?—in the poor house, and down for the basket! But to our Rainbows of Gold.

"If you get to the foot of a rainbow before it fade away you will find a bushel of gold."—Legend of Fairy Lore.

When I was a child I was solemnly told,
When the rainbow appeared in the sky,
That under its feet was a bushel of gold,
That any could get would they try;
So I ran where the splendor came down to the ground,
But it fleeted as fast as I ran,
And with all of my search it was nothing I found,
Yet I'm doing the same as a man.

There's the rainbow of love, when the affections are young,
The brightest, we think, of the lot;
We follow to find it a thing of the tongue,
Or a foolish abstraction of thought.
There's the rainbow of fame, with its amaranth crown:
We chase it the countless circles we run,
We reach where its footsteps are resting—came down,
And find—we have wasted a life.

Hope's rainbows are ever abroad in the air,
Alluring us fools to pursue;
We follow and follow, and find nothing there
Save a sprinkle of glittering dew.
Earth's rainbows of promise, so fair to the sight,
Are but fictions at best of the mind;
Their gleams give at most unsubstantial delight—
They fade and leave nothing behind.

Then what of the rainbow that gleams beyond death;
The promise hereafter? Who is there can tell
If, after the parting of body and breath,
He is sure under that rainbow all will be well?
Can he certain it is the last bow to allure
The one that stoops down on the bushel of gold—
The gold he at last shall possess? Who is sure?
Alas! 'tis a secret, we cannot unfold.

Beet Sugar.

The Commissioner of Agriculture, in his annual report, gives an extended review of the beet sugar industry, and presents his views as to its future. Of the soil best adapted to the growth of the beet the Commissioner says:

Professor Church, of England, holds that a mixed soil, not too easily dried, is best for the beet. Alkaline matter should not be in large proportion for sugar, but for spirit manufacture this circumstance is not so important. Deep ploughing is requisite to success, and even double ploughing is desirable. Seed should be sown in the middle of April. A fair average yield would be twenty tons of beets per acre, or 2,000 pounds of leaves. He stated that these twenty tons of beets would remove from an acre of land 180 tons of potash, 50 pounds of phosphoric acid, 32 pounds of magnesia, 18 pounds of sulphuric acid and 67 pounds of nitrogen. Thirty-five bushels of wheat, weighing 62 pounds each, would take from an acre of land only twelve pounds of potash and eighteen pounds of phosphoric acid, or but a quarter of the earthy matter; and that, while 20 tons of beets take away 40 pounds of soil matter and nitrogen, their leaves contain nearly 300 pounds more. Of these [illegible] sold are the most valuable elements of the soil, and their waste should be supplied by manuring with the refuse matter of sugar manufacture. The waste liquor of distillation alone contains three fourths of the abstracted potash. The manure of animals fed upon the pulp and the leaves would nearly embody the remaining fourth.

The Commissioner, after showing that the total declared value of our sugar imports during the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1870, was $69,827,684, says:

Our domestic sugar cane, beet, maple and sorghum did not amount to one-eighth of this aggregate. Europe, from the expansion of her beet sugar production, now supplies one-half of her home demand; and the industry is extending into England on a scale which promises to rival that of the Continent. Estimates by French statisticians prior to the war in Europe in cane, place the world's aggregate sugar production at 2,300,000 tons, one-third of the whole amount being assigned to Cuba. The industry of the cane-producing countries of the world, from which the great mass of our imports is derived, is mostly in a rudimentary or in a disorganized condition. Emancipated labor has yet to work at a disadvantage, not having been systematized or adapted to the conditions of a progressive civilization. The reorganization of this free labor has been in progress for many years, yet it is not so far advanced as in our Southern States after an interval of only five years of peace, nor does it present a prospect of a more rapid reconstruction in the future. Hence, though enjoying the exuberant natural resources of a tropical soil and climate, these foreign sugar industries still work at an enormous disadvantage with our own. The unsurpassed Cuba has denuded the finest portions of the island, and the financial conditions of the sugar interests is critical. Of 2,800 plantations it is reported that scarcely 1 per cent is free from mortgages, and that operations are prosecuted at such a disadvantage as to return not over 4 per cent. on the capital, while money loans cost 9 per cent. Into this breach, then, the best sugar industry of the United States should at once be thrown, and the best use be made of its excellent opportunity.

He expresses the opinion that present indications are that our best sugar production will soon equal that of Europe, which is given in the following figures:

During 1869, over 611,000 tons were yielded from beet manufactures. The average yield per acre differs in different countries: In Austria, 10 tons, in France, 11, in Prussia, 14; in Ireland, four to six tons. The entire product of France during 1869 was about 180,000 tons, which, at $1 per ton, or 5 cents per pound, amounted to $7,200,000.

New Financial Propositions

[illegible] Congress on the 15th we take the [illegible] Thurman back will introduce in the House a bill to provide a currency of coin and paper of equal and uniform value throughout the United States. His former position as an old member of the Ways and Means Committee and ex-Controller of the currency gives his project some value. The first section provides for the redemption in coin of legal-tender notes after thirty days, with the proviso that they can be reissued.

The National Banks shall redeem their notes in New York or par, in lawful money.

[illegible] shall continue to hold their legal reserve fund, in addition to coin on hand, till September 1, 1872, after which time such requirement for reserve shall cease.

4th National Banks are authorized to hold shares in a National Bank to be authorized in New York to an amount not exceeding one per cent. of the capital stock of the bank so subscribed, and to appoint such bank a redeeming agent.

5th. National Banks shall be exempt from taxation except this redeeming bank. Coin shall be sold by the Treasury when it will reduce the coin balance below a hundred millions, until the time fixed for redeeming the legal tenders.

6th. Duties shall be paid in coin.

ICE HOUSES.—Ice is an important remedy in various forms of disease, and is of great value in families as a means of keeping food and fruits fresh; nutritious and healthful; hence every well-to-do family, owning its own homestead, or two or three neighboring families, would do well to make an arrangement for an abundant supply of this summer luxury. It may be done at a small cost by building an ice house on the "Stevens Plan." For one family make a house twelve feet each way, by setting twelve posts in the ground, three on a side; board it up eight feet high, on the inside, so that the weight of the ice shall not press the boards outwards; dig out the dirt inside, six inches deep, and lay down twelve inches of sawdust; pack the ice in a pile nine feet each way, filling the space of eighteen inches between the ice and the boards with sawdust or tan bark, with the same thickness on top; making an old-fashioned board roof, leaving the space above the ice for ventilation. Have a small entrance on the north side of the roof. If the ice house can be located on the north side of a hill, and a small stream of water introduced slowly through the roof, on a very cold day, so as to make its way between the pieces of ice, the whole mass would freeze solid; or a pile of snow could thus be made solid ice, and would last from one winter to another.—Hall's Journal of Health.

The owner of the barn in which John Wilkes Booth met his death, petitions Congress for compensation to the amount of $2,525 for the loss of the building, and contents, which it will be remembered, were destroyed by fire in dislodging the fugitive assassins.

The vessels now loading here will be ready to be towed down to Astoria, so as to go to sea the first of next week.

The steamer Ajax is announced to leave on Saturday, January 27th.

The steamboats plying on the lower Columbia went down to-day properly sheathed.

We are in receipt by yesterday's mail, with compliments of R. E. Doyle, Esq., of a printed letter of I. Friedlander, Esq., the large Wheat operator in San Francisco, from which we extract the following, as showing the great importance of our State and also of Portland as the commercial center:

SAN FRANCISCO, January, 1872.

Gentlemen:—In view of the growing importance of Oregon as a grain producing State, and the ignorance which prevails respecting the facilities afforded ships doing business there, I beg you to disseminate among your friends abroad—particularly those owning vessels trading in the Pacific Ocean—the following information which you may rely upon as strictly trustworthy:

ENTRANCE TO COLUMBIA RIVER BAR.

Before the Commerce of Oregon had grown to any considerable importance, the comparatively few sail vessels visiting the Columbia river were generally piloted over the Bar by their own masters, who could be guided by but limited experience, and their memories of the locality, after the lapse of considerable periods of time. A few disasters consequent, and the want of reliable surveys, caused the "Columbia River Bar" to become a "by bear" to strangers bound there. With the growth of trade, good Pilots appeared, who for some years divided earnings of from $400 to $500 per month each, and who, to stay opposition and to justify their high rates, started to magnify its difficulties. Now, good surveys and increasing trade have exploded the dangers with which ignorance had surrounded the "Bar." No steamer has ever yet met with accident in steering in. There is now a Pilot Tug-boat that makes it equally safe for sailing vessels during seven months of the year it is always smooth, and during the other five months it is only liable to be rough under such severe weather as would make the "Bar" of San Francisco impassable. The entrance to the Columbia river is five miles wide between the nearest parts of Point Adams and Cape Disappointment. The passage is obstructed by shoals, that for two or three miles outside the line joining these points, but through which there are two channels, called separately the North and South Channels. The South Channel, which is used nearly altogether, is four miles wide, and the least water on its "Bar" is 24 feet at mean low water. The mean rise and fall of tides is 6.1 feet. It is buoyed, and no plain are its marks, that many sail vessels come in and go out, after having made the trip a few times, without a Pilot. On Cape Disappointment there is light (fixed white—1st order of French) that can be seen 21 miles from a ship's deck. Sail vessels can approach the light within four miles with perfect safety, and if bound a tug-boat owned by a company of pilots—towards the maintaining of which the Oregon Legislature has appropriated $30,000—that is always on hand to tow vessels in and out, so that the chances of detention are very few. Capt. M. Rogers, who is well known on this coast as one of the best pilots of any time, and who is perfectly reliable, says that for October, 1869, to November, 1869, he noted as the Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s pilot over the Bar, and that during that time 180 steamers came in and went out, and that the detention of all [illegible] owing to bad weather, etc., was not [illegible] hours, and [illegible] were very few. Capt. Van Dusen, of Astoria, has kept a record of all arrivals and departures, from which we cull the following:—From November 30, 1867, to November 30, 1870, the arrivals were 2228 steamers and 1,291 vessels; and during that time there have been no accidents or losses, and the detentions have not been, at most, 6 days. Other places than the Columbia River Bar are not among a much less period of time. We do not believe there is another place in the Union that can show a better record.

From the San Francisco Commercial Herald of January 10th, we glean the following changes in that market:

It is feared that by reason of a scarcity of tonnage and consequent high freights the current year, that our export trade of Lumber will be considerably curtailed. At present our stocks of Redwood and Oregon Pine, etc., are exceedingly light for the season.

There is a lack of supplies in many kinds of Chemicals used by Soap and Candle manufacturers, etc., and prices, in consequence have of late advanced materially. Business generally is now looking up a little.

The market is dull for all kinds of Salt, except of Mackerel light, and for the most part held at high figures. Eastern Cod sells slowly; Salmon in wood, bbls., half bbls. and kits, very plentiful and low for sale at low prices. Columbia and Eogue river Salmon are superior, and are quotable at $6.00@7 in bbls., $3 50@4 in half bbls. Canned Salmon, $2@2 50 per doz for 1 and 2lb cans.

There is a dealer reported selling sugars to advance prices of Nails and some other Hardware goods, but until the spring business fairly opens, a change seems premature by many in the trade.

Rice is an imported article, and low. Figs, with small sales at 19c, now held at 20c. Stocks of Spices generally and light, and holders firm at quotations.

Produce Market.

WHEAT—The San Francisco Commercial Herald of January 10th remarks as follows, concerning the market there, "Many large holders of Wheat and Barley, tired of waiting for extreme prices for their grain, have during the week been very free sellers at considerable concessions from values offered them last fall and, by them refused, thus pocketing quite a heavy loss upon their original speculations. The Wheat purchases thus made were chiefly for export, although a few thousand sacks choice were taken for milling purposes. The market at this writing, seems to have come to a pause, owing in part to the scarcity of tonnage and the enhanced rates demanded, for grain charters to the United Kingdom." Our market is unchanged from yesterday's quotations, viz: Weiss Imported that an offer was made at $2 70 for a large lot, which was declined here; quotations, 45@60c.

FLOUR—The market remains as at last report. The amount waiting shipment per Ajax is large.

BUTTER—A San Francisco exchange says: "Butter holders seem to be pushed strictly in view of the early and heavy home supplies of fresh grass roll Butter, which will soon come rushing in upon us. Those who were holding under limits of 37½@38c, now have their limits taken off, and would gladly accept of 32½@35c, but cannot move their stocks even at this concession. We must soon look to the Atlantic States for an outlet for our surplus and to this end arrangements are already being made for sending considerable supplies of choice fresh grass roll Butter, in boxes to New York by rail. Orders are now being received here from Salt Lake and other points on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad for California Butter, etc., and shipments of this character are now going forward, much care having been bestowed in the selection and packing of the goods in order to gratify the tastes of that peculiar people."

General Merchandize.

TEAS—The exports of Tea from China and Japan from June 1st to December 6th, 1871, amounted to 39,810,600 lbs, about one-half of which came to at the Golden Gate, San Francisco. The exports during the same time in 1870 were 29,115,000 lbs. The exports to the United Kingdom and the Continent during the same period amounted to 150,823,000 lbs, against 106,652,000 lbs in 1870. The import value of Teas into San Francisco during 1871 from Japan amounted to $1,806,914; from China, $2,250,054—or a total of $4,056,968. This, be it remembered, is the market value of the goods at the place of production.

RICE—San Francisco advices report choice quality of Chinese and prime Table in light supply, with holders firm in exacting extreme rates. No. 2 China and Siam reported more plentiful.

PAINTS—We quote market by jobbing lots as Averill's chemical pure gal; $2 75; Atlantic, 12½@13; Bartlett, 11 @12; North River, 11; Greenbank, 10½; French zinc white, 15; Davoe's pure white, 12; lampblack, Eddy's, 30@35; Germantown, 14@50; ordinary, 25@30; Venetian red, 8@8½; Brown Ochre, 6@7; Red lead, 12½@13; litharge, 12@14, dry ground, 10 cents.

DRUGS—New York advices to January 10th quote the market there as follows:—There has been an active demand for Brahmer's Gil Lemon based on higher prices in Europe; holders at $3 gold. Santonin is firmer, held at $2 87½ gold. Liquorice Paste has also been active. Borax is nearly out of market; there is none on the way, and it is held above present supply. Opium is [illegible] but firm—$8 50 bid for new in bond. Cinchona is [illegible] Sulphate way, as to [illegible] Quinine is [illegible] Capsicum is firmer, 32@34c bid. Iodine is [illegible] Manufacturers of Hyd. Potash have advanced their price to 29 00 currency. Gambier is dull and nominal at 4 cents gold, from the dock. Oxalic Acid is scarce and held at 23@30 cents gold. Scotch Bi. Carb. Potash, 22 gold.

Markets.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—Flour—The principal movements for the week embrace the shipments of the Matchless for Hong Kong, of 14,150 bbls, and the receipt of 10,000 bbls from Oregon. Prices favor buyers, nominal rates being $5 06@7 as to grades.

Wheat—Market 5@10 cents lower than it was a week ago; very dull at $2 10@2 15.

Barley—Dull and nominal at $1 50@1 60.

Oats—150 sks Norway, $1 70; extremes $1 65@1 85.

Potatoes—Humboldt, 80@85; other qualities, 50@60c.

Onions—Last sales at 75c@$1; quotable to-day at $1@1 25.

Corn—Has further declined with sales at $1 40@1 65.

Corn Meal—$26@3.

Pears—Dry, $1 75.

Rye—Quiet, $2 25@2 50.

Buckwheat—Jobbing at $2 50.

Hops—The firmness of the New York market is reflected here; quotations, 45@60c.

Feed—Bran and Feed Middlings have been reduced to $27 50 and $27 50 respectively.

Oil Cake Meal—$40.

Butter—Lower, say 30@33c for fresh rolls and 25@30c for firkin and pickled.

Cheese—16@18c Eastern, 16@17c.

Eggs—42½@45c for California.

Daily Receipts of Produce.
